COMPLAINT FOR RECOVERY OF PLAN BENEFITS AND FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF RIGHTS UNDER ERISA

COMES NOW, Plaintiff Darrell Russell, by and through his attorneys, makes the following representations to the Court for the purpose of obtaining relief from Defendant's refusal to pay long-term disability benefits due under an employee benefits plan under ERISA, and for Defendant's other violations of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA").

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This Court's jurisdiction over the Plaintiff's claims for long term disability benefits is invoked under federal question jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and under the express jurisdiction found in the ERISA statute under 29 U.S.C. § 1132(e) (ERISA § 5-2(e)).

2. Plaintiff's claims "relate to" an "employee welfare benefits plan" or "plans" as defined by ERISA, 29 U.S.C. § 1001 et seq., and the subject disability benefit plans constitutes a "plan under ERISA."
3. The ERISA statute, at 29 U.S.C. § 1133, as well as Department of Labor regulations, at 29 C.F.R. § 2569.503-1 provide a mechanism for administrative or internal appeal of benefits denials.
4. In this case, the aforementioned avenues of appeal have been exhausted and this matter is now properly before this court for judicial review.
5. Venue is proper within the Northern District of Georgia pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 1132(e)(2).

PARTIES

6. Plaintiff, Darrell Russell (hereinafter "Plaintiff"), was at all relevant times, a resident of the City of Ball Ground, County of Cherokee, State of Georgia.
7. Plaintiff alleges upon information and belief that Chart Industries, Inc. Long Term Disability Plan (hereinafter "Plan") is, and at all relevant times was, an "employee welfare benefit plan" as defined by ERISA.
8. The Plan provides eligible employees with disability income protection as defined by the Plan.
9. Plaintiff alleges upon information and belief that Chart Industries, Inc., is the Plan Sponsor and Plan Administrator of the long-term disability Plan.

10. Chart Industries, Inc., and/or the Plan additionally maintained or contained other benefits and/or component plans under which Plaintiff may be entitled to benefits if found disabled under the long-term disability Plan.

11. Plaintiff alleges upon information and belief that Liberty Life Assurance Company of Boston initially managed the long-term disability Plan.

12. Effective September 1, 2019, Liberty Life Assurance Company of Boston changed its name to Lincoln Life Assurance Company of Boston (hereinafter “Lincoln”); accordingly, Lincoln is the named Defendant in this Complaint.

13. Lincoln is the party obligated to pay benefits and to determine eligibility for benefits under the Plan.

14. Lincoln is the underwriter for Group Policy Number GF3-880-034785-01.

15. Lincoln is an insurance company authorized to transact the business of insurance in this State, and may be served with process through its registered agent, Corporation Service Company, 40 Technology Parkway South, Suite 300, Norcross, Georgia 30092, and at its headquarters located at 175 Berkley Street, Boston Massachusetts, 02116.

FACTS

16. Defendant Lincoln was the entity responsible for processing claims and adjudicating appeals regarding long-term disability benefits under the Plan.

17. The long-term disability Plan is fully insured by Lincoln under Group Policy Number GF3-880-034785-01.
18. The Plaintiff timely filed an application for benefits under the Plan, was subsequently denied benefits, Plaintiff timely appealed, and Lincoln issued its final denial on January 29, 2021.
19. The Plaintiff was employed as a Production Supervisor by Chart Industries, Inc., at its location in the City of Ball Ground, County of Cherokee, State of Georgia, and as such, Plaintiff was thereby a participant or beneficiary of the Plan, and is covered by the policy that provides benefits under the Plan.
20. The Plaintiff ceased work on or about November 8, 2016, due to a disability while covered under the Plan.
21. The Plaintiff has been and continues to be disabled as defined by the provisions of the Plan.
22. In accordance with the review procedures set forth in the Plan, 29 U.S.C. § 1133, and 29 C.F.R. § 2560.503-1, Plaintiff appealed the claim until exhausting the required plan appeals.
23. Having submitted his appeal, and as confirmed by Lincoln, Plaintiff exhausted his administrative remedies.
24. Based on the terms of the insurance policy, Plaintiff's complaint is timely and is not otherwise time barred.

25. Plaintiff is entitled to long term disability benefits as he has met the long-term disability Plan's requirements, and his disability continues to prevent him from performing the material and substantial duties of his own occupation and from performing, with reasonable continuity, the material and substantial duties of any occupation which he is or becomes reasonably fitted by training, education, experience, age, physical and mental capacity.

26. If disabled pursuant to the terms of the policy, Plaintiff, who was paid disability benefits from November 8, 2016 through May 8, 2020, is entitled to a monthly gross long-term disability benefit of $2,413.84 offset by a primary Social Security disability benefit of $2,054.00, and an auxiliary benefit which, added to the primary benefit, is $3,100.00, for a minimum monthly long-term disability benefit of $241.38 from May 9, 2020 to November 20, 2024, and then offset by only the primary benefits for a net monthly long-term disability benefit of $359.84, from November 21, 2024 to May 27, 2043, such that he is entitled to $2,218.93 in back benefits, $77,155.61 in future benefits (using 3.00% to discount to net present value) with an overpayment of $1,241.52 owed (the Social Security Administration found the Plaintiff disabled as of September 4, 2019, with benefits beginning in March of 2020, such that the overpayment is $7,241.52 minus $6,000.00 for the attorneys' fee), for a total long-term disability benefit of $78,133.02.

27. Evidence submitted by Plaintiff to Lincoln supporting her disability includes, inter alia, the following: medical records and/or medical opinions from multiple treating physician indicating the Plaintiff suffers from complex regional pain syndrome (“CRPS), distal axonal peripheral neuropathy, chronic right C8 radiculopathy, chronic right L5-S1 radiculopathy, and lumbar post-laminectomy syndrome, with attendant chronic pain, fatigue and diminished concentration and memory, all of which requires Plaintiff to take frequent and unpredictable rest breaks, causes chronic absenteeism during any work environment, and causes him to be off-task more than ten percent (10%) of any given workday. The Plaintiff was also awarded Social Security disability benefits.

28. Treating physician Anne Todd, M.D., opined that as a result of his impairments that Plaintiff would be able to walk one city block without rest or severe pain, sit or stand for 20 minutes at one time, sit or stand for less than 2 hours, would need a job that shifts positions, would need to have periods of walking around during an 8 hour working day, for 30 minutes 10 times, would require unscheduled breaks, 3 times per day, would be able to rarely lift and carry 20-50 pounds, never be able to climb ladders, would have limitations in reaching, handling, and fingering, would be absent 25% of the time, would be incapable of even low stress work, and would be absent more than 4 days per month from any competitive employment.

29.On November 4, 2020, about two months prior to when Lincoln issued its final denial on January 29, 2021, Social Security Administrative Law Judge Denise M. Martin found the ALJ found that Plaintiff was disabled as of September 4, 2019, because, inter alia, he needed to take unscheduled work breaks in excess of the regular work breaks (of two 15-minute breaks and a 30-minute lunch period), and would be off-task more than 20 percent of the work period.

30.Lincoln relied on medical consultants for file reviews during the administrative appeal of Plaintiff's disability claim and said consultants opined, inter alia, that Plaintiff had minor impairments which had no meaningful impact on his functionality without addressing his work reliability, consistency, substantial capacity and steady attendance.

31.Lincoln relied on third party vendors, including Reliable Review Services ("RRS"), to obtain medical consultants to review the Plaintiff's medical records and render an opinion about functionality.

32.RRS works for disability insurance companies like Lincoln. For example, with respect to file reviews and payment for services, in 2005 RRS was retained by Hartford, and RRS in turn retained physicians to perform 377 reviews for Hartford. In 2005, Hartford paid $278,954 to RRS for services. In 2006, RRS was retained by Hartford, and RRS in turn retained physicians to perform 1129 reviews for Hartford. In 2006, Hartford paid $1,157,624 to RRS for services. In 2007, RRS was retained by Hartford, and RRS in turn retained physicians to perform 1517 reviews for Hartford. In 2007, Hartford paid $2,038,971 to RRS for services. In 2008, RRS was retained by Hartford, and RRS in turn retained physicians to perform 1243 reviews for Hartford. In 2008, Hartford paid $1,690,002 to RRS for services. Taylor v. Hartford, Docket No. 08-cv-8145 (WHP), (S.D.N.Y. 2008).

33. The Plaintiff has now exhausted his required administrative remedies for his long-term disability benefits under the Plan pursuant to ERISA or such administrative remedies are deemed exhausted and/or his long-term disability benefits are deemed denied.

34. The Court's standard of review for the ERISA claims is de novo under Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. v. Bruch, 489 U.S. 101 (1989).

35. The entity that chose to deny long term disability benefits would pay any such benefits due out of its own funds.

36. Defendant Lincoln was a claims decision-maker under a perpetual conflict of interest because the long-term disability benefits would have been paid out of its own funds.

37.Defendant Lincoln allowed its concern over its own funds to influence its decision-making.

38.Defendant has acted under a policy to take advantage of the potential applicability of ERISA to claims.

39.Lincoln's administrative process did not provide Plaintiff with a full and fair review; by way of example, Lincoln's denial letters did not contain the specific reasons for the denial and did not advise Plaintiff of the information Lincoln required in order to approve her continuing benefits.

40.The disability insurance policy does not provide Lincoln with discretionary authority.

41.At all times relative hereto, Lincoln has been operating under an inherent and structural conflict of interest because any monthly benefits paid to Plaintiff are paid from Lincoln's own assets with each payment depleting those same assets.

42.As the party obligated to pay benefits and the administrator given discretion in construing and applying the provisions of the disability plan and assessing Plaintiff's entitlement to benefits, Lincoln is an ERISA fiduciary.

43.Under ERISA, a fiduciary must carry out its duties with respect to the plan solely in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries for the exclusive purpose of providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent individual acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.

44. Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 43 of this complaint.

45. Under ERISA, a fiduciary should fully investigate the relevant and applicable facts of any claim.

46. Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 45 of this complaint.

47. Under ERISA, a fiduciary should fairly consider all information obtained regarding a claim, including that which tends to favor claim payment or continuation as well as that which tends to favor claim declination or termination.

48. Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 47 of this complaint.

49. Under ERISA, a fiduciary should consider the interests of its insured at least equal to its own and to resolve undeterminable issues in its insured's favor.

50. Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 49 of this complaint.

51.Under ERISA, a fiduciary has the obligation to read, interpret and understand all of the pertinent medical information with sufficient clarity so as to be able to make a fair, objective and thorough evaluation of its insured's claims for disability benefits.

52.Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 51 of this complaint.

53.Under ERISA, a fiduciary's denial of a claim should not be based on speculation.

54.Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 53 of this complaint.

55.Under ERISA, a fiduciary should be objective in its assessment of facts and not attempt to bias the claims investigation process in any manner.

56.Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 55 of this complaint.

57.Under ERISA, a fiduciary should not take into consideration the amount of money it would save if a particular claim or set of claims is denied, terminated, or otherwise not paid.

58.Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 57 of this complaint.

59.Under ERISA, a fiduciary should refrain from excessive reliance on in-house medical staff to support the denial, termination, or reduction of benefits.

60.Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 59 of this complaint.

61.Under ERISA, a fiduciary should not conduct unfair evaluation and interpretation of attending physicians' or independent medical examiners' reports.

62.Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 61 of this complaint.

63.Under ERISA, a fiduciary should evaluate the totality of its insured's medical conditions.

64.Lincoln failed to satisfy its duties under ERISA as specified in paragraph 63 of this complaint.

65.Under ERISA, a fiduciary has an obligation to conduct a fair, thorough, and objective review.

CAUSE OF ACTION
FOR PLAN BENEFITS AGAINST ALL DEFENDANTS
PURSUANT TO 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(1)(B)

PLAINTIFF incorporates all the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 66 as if fully stated herein and says further that:

67.Under the terms of the Plan, Defendant agreed to provide Plaintiff with long term disability benefits in the event that Plaintiff became disabled as defined in the Plan.

68.Plaaintiff is disabled under the terms of the Plan.

69.Defendant failed to provide benefits due under the Plan, and this denial of benefits to Plaintiff constitutes a breach of the Plan.

70.The decision to deny benefits was wrong under the terms of the Plan.

71.The decision to deny benefits and decision-making process were arbitrary and capricious.

72.The decision to deny benefits was not supported by substantial evidence in the record.

74.The appellate procedures did not provide the Plaintiff a full and fair review.

75.As an ERISA fiduciary, the Defendant owed the Plaintiff fiduciary duties, such as an obligation of good faith and fair dealing, full and complete information, and a decision-making process free of influence by self-interest.

76. The Defendant violated the fiduciary duties owed to the Plaintiff.

77. As a direct and proximate result of the aforementioned conduct of the Defendant in failing to provide benefits for Plaintiff's disability and in failing to provide a full and fair review of the decision to deny benefits, Plaintiff has been damaged in the amount equal to the amount of benefits to which Plaintiff would have been entitled to under the Plan, and continued benefits payable while the Plaintiff remains disabled under the terms of the Plan.

78. As a direct and proximate result of the aforementioned conduct of the Defendant in failing to provide benefits for Plaintiff's disability, Plaintiff has suffered, and will continue to suffer in the future, damages under the Plan, plus interest and other damages, for a total amount to be determined.
